Allison Ehrlich

Allison Ehrlich was born and raised in Corpus Christi. She attended school at Windsor Park Elementary, Baker Middle School, and King High School and earned her Bachelor's Degree in Communications Media from Texas A&M University - Corpus Christi. She has been the archivist at the Corpus Christi Caller-Times since 2007 and joined the Caller-Times Editorial Board in 2012. She writes a weekly "Throwback Thursday" column on Corpus Christi history. She previously worked as a library assistant at La Retama Central Library and at Texas A&M University – Corpus Christi's Mary and Jeff Bell Library. Allison has been married to Eric Ehrlich for more than 10-years and they are parents to a 4-year-old daughter and a 1-year-old son.

Jeff Felts

Jeff Felts is Director of Television Production for KEDT-TV, and has been a part of the station's production team since 1987. He has produced award-winning public affairs programs and instructional programs, as well as historical and social documentaries. Jeff combines knowledge of the South Texas cultural environment with thirty-years of experience in public television production. The Texas Historical Commission recognized his documentary on the 1914 Nueces County Courthouse with its award of excellence, and his numerous other works are also award-winning. Jeff lives in Corpus Christi with his wife of 31-years, Suzie, an elementary school librarian, son Paul who is attending Texas A&M University – Kingsville's Irma Lerma Rangel College of Pharmacy, and son Nathan, a Kaffie Middle School student.

Kathryn Wemer

After retiring from Corpus Christi Independent School District with over 36-years teaching American and Texas history, Kathy elected to continue in the classroom as a substitute teacher. Outside the classroom she continues to docent at the Centennial House to include private tours of the residence, speaking on various history topics for organizations, and researching and coordinating the dedication of Texas Historical Commission markers in the city and around Nueces County. She currently serves as Vice President of the Nueces County Historical Society, and in that capacity coordinates the monthly programs of the Society. It's been said that Kathy eats and sleeps history 24-hours a day!
